Full Retirement Age for Annuities Based on Less Than 30 years of Service	The term Full Retirement Age means the age at which the spouse of an employee with less than 30 years of railroad service can receive a full annuity (not reduced for early retirement). If the employee has less than 30 years of railroad service, Full Retirement Age for spouses who were born before January 2, 1938, is age 65. The Full Retirement Age for persons born after January 1, 1938, will gradually increase over a 20-year period to age 67, as illustrated in the following chart. Your Tier 2 age reduction will be based on age 65 if the employee has any creditable railroad service before August 12, 1983. Otherwise, the Full Retirement Age for your Tier 2 age reduction will gradually increase in the same manner as Full Retirement Age for your Tier 1 age reduction.

General Conditions Under Which a Person is Entitled to a Railroad Retirement Spouse Annuity (con't).

Marriage Requirement	In order to qualify for a spouse annuity, you must be the legal spouse of the employee and you must have been legally married to the railroad employee for at least one year immediately prior to filing your spouse annuity application. The one-year marriage requirement is waived if any of the following conditions exist: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • you are the natural parent of the railroad employee's child; or, • you were eligible for a widow(er)'s, parent's, or disabled child's annuity under the Railroad Retirement Act in the month before your marriage to the employee; or, • you had met the one-year marriage requirement for a previous spouse annuity on the employee's earnings record before a divorce and you later remarried that employee.

Definition of Child-in-Care	A wife may qualify for a spouse annuity, or a husband may qualify for a Tier 1 component, at any age, based on a child of the employee in care. The employee must have attained age 62 (or age 60 with 30 years of service) to qualify the spouse for this annuity. The child must be either: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • a minor child under age 18; or, • a child age 18 or older with a permanent disability which began before the child attained age 22 and prevents any type of regular employment. The term Child-in-Care includes the railroad employee's unmarried natural child, adopted child or dependent stepchild, or under certain conditions, a grandchild whose parents are deceased or disabled. A child is in your care if you exercise parental control over, and are responsible for, the welfare and care of the child. If the child is permanently disabled, but mentally competent, he or she is considered to be in your care if you perform personal services. The RRB will make the final determination regarding the personal services you perform and whether or not they constitute the child being in your care.

Tier 1 Work Deductions for Non-Railroad Earnings After Annuity Begins	Your Tier 1 component is not reduced for your nonrailroad earnings if you are receiving social security benefits. Otherwise, the Annual Earnings Exempt Amount is the amount of nonrailroad earnings you can have in a calendar year without losing part of your Tier 1 component. Use Chart 3 to determine your Full Retirement Age. Then refer to Chart 4 below and Form G-77a How Work Affects Your Railroad Retirement Benefits. The employee's nonrailroad earnings over the Annual Earnings Exempt Amount for the employee's age group may also cause work deductions in your Tier 1 component.

General Conditions Under Which a Person is Entitled to a Railroad Retirement Spouse Annuity (con't).

5-Year Vesting Cases	If the employee's annuity is based on 60-119 months of railroad service with at least 60 months of railroad service after 1995 (5-year vesting case), you qualify for a spouse annuity Tier 1 component only when the employee qualifies for a Tier 1 component. Refer to Form G-177 General Conditions Under Which a Person is Entitled to a Railroad Retirement Employee Annuity for further information about the employee's requirement for an SSA Insured Status for a Tier 1 component.
Tier 2 Work Deduction for Last Pre-Retirement Non-Railroad Earnings After Annuity Begins	Your Last Pre-Retirement Nonrailroad Employer is defined as any nonrailroad individual, company or institution for whom you are working on the date your spouse annuity begins or for whom you stopped working in order to receive a spouse annuity. (For more information, see Form G-177L General Information about Continuing in or Returning to Nonrailroad Employment after Retirement under the Railroad Retirement Act.) After the date your spouse annuity begins, any earnings from your Last Pre-Retirement Nonrailroad Employer, at any age, may cause work deductions to your Tier 2 component. The deduction is $1 for every $2 earned (subject to the maximum reduction of 50% of your Tier 2 component). If the employee has a Last Pre-Retirement Nonrailroad Employer and the employee works for that employer after the date your spouse annuity begins, those Last Pre-Retirement Nonrailroad Employer earnings can also cause work deductions to your Tier 2 component.
When a Spouse Annuity is not Payable	A spouse annuity is not payable for any month in which: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • the employee's annuity is not payable; or, • you work for a railroad employer; or, • you become entitled to a railroad retirement annuity based on your own earnings record that exceeds the amount of your spouse annuity on a different earnings record and neither earnings record includes railroad service before 1975; or, • you become entitled to a railroad retirement survivor annuity based on a different earnings record that exceeds the spouse annuity rate.
When a Spouse Annuity Ends	A spouse annuity ends the month before the month in which: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • you die; or, • the employee dies (a widow(er)'s annuity may become payable at this time); or, • the employee's entitlement to an employee annuity terminates due to recovery from disability; or, • your marriage to the employee ends by absolute divorce (a divorced spouse annuity may become payable at this time); or, • your marriage to the employee is dissolved by annulment; or, • the child qualifying you for an annuity is no longer in your care or attains age 18 or recovers from disability. Your spouse annuity will end unless you are old enough to receive a spouse annuity based on age.
